

Name _____ Class _____ Date _____

1 Bagels taste better than toast.
This statement is a(n) _____.

- A fact
- B opinion
- C exaggeration
- D jargon

2 It is easier to have meals at the dining room table than out in the yard.
This statement is a(n) _____.

- A fact
- B opinion
- C exaggeration
- D jargon

3 At this store we sell freshly baked breads and rolls.
This statement is a(n) _____.

- A fact
- B opinion
- C exaggeration

4 Water, milk, and oil are examples of liquids.
This statement is a(n) _____.

- A fact
- B opinion

PREVIEW

Please Sign In or Sign Up to download the printable version of this worksheet

7 a man by day three!
B The baby gained one pound every month.
C Babies drink milk and sleep a lot.
D The baby's name was Jenesia.

- A an exaggeration
- B an opinion
- C an unclear statement
- D correct as it is

9 The teacher demanded that the student return the.
This is an example of _____.

- A an opinion
- B missing information
- C figurative language
- D exaggeration

10 There was a thunderstorm at night, and Kara forgot to close her bedroom window. In class the next day, she described the storm as "a tornado in my room, everything swirling around in the twister."
This is an example of a(n) _____.

- A fact
- B opinion
- C exaggeration
- D jargon

ANSWER KEY

Bagels taste better than toast.

This statement is a(n) _____.

- A fact
- B opinion
- C exaggeration
- D jargon

(b)

It is easier to have meals at the dining room table than out in the yard.

This statement is a(n) _____.

- A fact
- B opinion
- C exaggeration
- D jargon

(b)

At this store we sell freshly baked breads and rolls.

This statement is a(n) _____.

- A fact
- B opinion
- C exaggeration
- D jargon

(a)

Water, milk, and oil are examples of liquids.

This statement is a(n) _____.

- A fact
- B opinion
- C exaggeration
- D jargon

(a)

PREVIEW

Please Sign In or Sign Up to download the printable version of this worksheet

- B The baby gained one pound every month.
- C Babies drink milk and sleep a lot.
- D The baby's name was Jenesia.

- B an opinion
- C an unclear statement
- D correct as it is

The teacher demanded that the student return the.

This is an example of _____.

- A an opinion
- B missing information
- C figurative language
- D exaggeration

(b)

There was a thunderstorm at night, and Kara forgot to close her bedroom window. In class the next day, she described the storm as "a tornado in my room, everything swirling around in the twister."

This is an example of a(n) _____.

- A fact
- B opinion
- C exaggeration
- D jargon

(c)